ABSTRACT

The role of parents in nurture of children is extremely necessary, since household is a domain in which a child has initially guidance and education by his or her parents.

Like teachers, parents have function as initial, prominent educators for their children in fostering mental, physical or spiritual power of children.

Parents are in considerable preoccupation of their duties, especially in a globalization era, and a mother as career woman was being simply busy, making education of her children unfinished.

Parents will have to take important role to play in everyday activities, as is following:

- Provide children with guidance of admiration, self-control, and honesty.
- Responsible for children treatment, nurture, education, and guidance.
- Develop characters of children, affect behavioral development, and protect children.

Key words: The role of parents, Educate child, Globalization
